Babylonian Dolls.

The story of toys at the World's fair began away back. Up in the southwest corner of the gallery in the liberal art section of Manufactures building the University of Pennsylvania showed what it is doing with its excavation fund. Among the curious relics of the old civilization of Babylon it showed a case filled with casts of funny looking animals that bear a remote but wholly distinguishable resemblance to camels, goats, horses and dogs. These little figures are reproductions of pieces of pottery found at Nippur by the excavations expedition of the university. Some of them bear the dates 300, 500 and 800 B. C. All of them were undoubtedly the toys little dwellers in the old cities of the haughty Babylonian kings treasured centuries ago.

A man on horseback, a little table, one leg of which had spirited away; a dog surrounded by a litter of puppies, a dromedary that is a really wonderful reproduction and a ram are some of the best of the toys. That which possesses the greatest interest, however, is a doll about 4 inches long. This was admirably modeled by the carver, who made it out of bone in those faraway days, before the veins of the rulers of old dynasties were troubled by visions of the new world. It had a pretty face, with clearly marked features and it looks more to recommend it from an esthetic point of view than those of the modern chin dolls.

The most wonderful thing about this Babylonian doll, however, is the fact that in those days when it had arms—it is fitted to take a good thing—they were movable and attached to its body parts. There is nothing new under the sun. The world has known that fact for centuries. It may be impressed even in the mind of some nineteenth century mind, though, when she learns that 2,100 years ago little Babylonian girls had jointed dolls just as good, perhaps even a little better than hers, to play with.—Chicago Tribune.

"Something Better." "Here comes old Simon," cried Ben Davis as he and his schoolmates met an aged grocer, who, having no horse, was obliged to deliver the groceries himself.

"The old fellow is carrying a bag of beans somewhere," cried Fred Brown. "Look, look, he's spilled half of them, and they are all getting a good wetting in the snow. Ha, ha, what fun! Do see the old man try to pick them up! He's about as blind as a mole too."

"Let's give the big another shake," laughed Bob Maggs, "and set the rest of the beans a-flying."

"Oh, no," cried Sammie Beers. "Let's do something better than that. Let's run and help him pick up the beans. He isn't to blame for being old and blind."

"Course he isn't," cried Ben. "Who said he was?"

"Nobody," answered Fred, "but, I say, let's help him load up that bag again."

Then the boys told the grocer what they meant to do. They began their task at once and in a few minutes had returned the greater part of the beans to the bag.—Exchange.

Place chairs in a row, one less than the number of persons, with one turned one way, the other in the opposite direction. Have some one play a march, and the party will form in line and march around the chairs. When the music ceases, all try to get chairs—the person left is out. This goes on till there are but two persons, a chair being removed each time, so there is but one chair left. When the music ceases, the person left is out enough not to get into a tie with the company in.

A PROTECTORATE FOR HAWAII.

Incredible as it may seem, it is stated as an absolute fact that the Administration has changed its attitude on the Hawaiian question and is now in favor of establishing a protectorate over the islands. All the correspondence between the State Department and Minister Willis, the instructions to Envoy Extraordinary Blount and all other papers bearing on the subject are to be made public and the matter will be turned over to Congress to dispose of as it may see fit.

This shows a complete change of policy on the part of the State Department. It was alleged at first by Secretary Gresham that the subversion of the monarchy was caused by intimidation on the part of the United States navy. Marines were landed from the warship Boston and marched in battle array through the streets of Honolulu to the Queen's palace, near which they were encamped. The Queen, fearing violence and believing that the revolutionists would be supported by the United States military forces, surrendered and the Provisional Government assumed direction of public affairs. The Administration at Washington, believing that the success of the revolutionists was due in a great measure to the presence of United States marines, desired to restore the Queen and, so far as possible, reestablish the relations which existed at the time of the landing of the marines. That would have been fair, to say the least, had it been conclusively shown that the United States troops participated in the revolution, or were in any way instrumental in overthrowing the Government. That was not proved, however, though it was shown that the marines were encamped nearer the palace or government house than was necessary for the protection of the lives or property of American citizens. However that may be, the Administration at Washington recognized the Provisional Government at Honolulu and sent an accredited Minister to that Government. That Minister, as has been shown, was instructed to negotiate for the restoration of the Queen on condition that the members of the Provisional Government and all the revolutionists should be amnestied. That seemed wrong and implied treachery on the part of the United States in sending a Minister to the Government with instructions to negotiate for the overthrow of that Government.

Now it appears that the United States forces were not used to dethrone or restore the Queen; that the Provisional Government has maintained its supremacy for a year; that its authority is recognized throughout the islands, and that it desires the protection of the United States, if the islands are not annexed to the United States. It has also been ascertained that public sentiment in the United States is in favor of the Provisional Government and a protectorate, with a view to annexation at some future time. Under such circumstances, Congress cannot do less than declare the islands to be under the protection of this Government, and warn European nations that interference on their part with the domestic affairs of the islands will not be permitted. Such an act will restore confidence at Honolulu and satisfy a large majority of the American people, but at the same time will deprive Congress and politicians of a favorite and prolific theme for discussion.

NONSENSE ASSERTION.

John Sherman, Edward Atkinson, Grover Cleveland and all the other goldbugs are constantly asserting that a single gold standard is the only desirable one because gold is always at par. A cynical writer in the New York Sun points out that it is ridiculous to speak of a thing being at par unless mention is made of the thing to which it is equal. "Par" means "equal to," and when the gold men say that "gold is always at par" they simply mean that a certain amount of gold of a certain fineness is always worth an equal amount of gold of the same fineness. So is a bushel of beans of certain quality always worth a bushel of beans of a similar quality. A clear-headed thinker is forced to the conclusion that the man who asserts that gold is always at par, that is to say, has an unvarying value, is either a knave or a donkey. Usually he is made up of equal parts of knavishness and folly.

An electrical experiment, which has heretofore been regarded as impossible, has been successfully performed at the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Baltimore. By means of a flexible tube, a small electric light was introduced into the stomach of a patient. The room was darkened and over 2,000 students viewed the workings of a man's internal organism through the abdominal wall.

JUDGE HOLMAN of Indiana is the only member of Congress who was in that body before the war, having been first elected in 1859. Galusha A. Grow, who has been nominated for Congressman-at-large from Pennsylvania, and of whose election there is no doubt, was first chosen Congressman in 1851.

RUSSELL SAGE of New York, who is worth $20,000,000 or more, complains that he is unjustly taxed, as he is assessed at $600,000. This would imply injustice, but not to Mr. Sage. Of course he is opposed to the income tax.

DOLE'S REPLY TO WILLIS.

Chris Evans Has Been Seen In Squaw Valley.

WILLIS' DISPATCH.

The President Communicates the Same to Congress.

WASHINGTON, January 13.—The President to-day communicated to Congress all the documents in relation to Hawaii not heretofore sent in. Among the papers was a dispatch from Minister Willis, enclosing President Dole's reply to his demand for the retirement of the Provisional Government, under date of December 23d, as follows:

President Dole has just delivered in person at this hour (midnight) the answer of the Provisional Government declining, for reasons therein stated, to accept the decision of the President of the United States, a copy of which is herewith enclosed. The revenue cutter Corwin is under sailing orders and will leave in a few minutes for San Francisco. The captain has been instructed to slow up, if necessary, and enter the harbor of San Francisco at night and deliver in person dispatches 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 19 to our dispatch agent at that place.

The object of this is to enable the President to receive these official communications before any intimation of their character can be telegraphed. I will on Tuesday acknowledge the receipt of the answer of the Provisional Government, notifying it that the President of the United States will be informed thereof, and that no further steps will be taken by me until I hear from him. I shall deliver similar communications to the Queen. There is very great excitement prevailing here, and the peculiar condition surrounding this people prompt the above course, which, I trust, will meet the approbation of the President and yourself. I think it proper to acknowledge in this public way the efficient services rendered the Government of the United States by our Consul General Mills, since my arrival at this place.

HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS.

Latest Advice from the Islands Contain Nothing of a Startling Nature.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 13.—The steamer Peking arrived to-day, bringing full Hawaiian advices to the Associated Press. Nothing of a startling nature has developed since the Warrino left here January 1. The Government had decided to make public President Dole's reply to Minister Willis's request that the Provisional Government retire and allow the Queen to be restored. Accordingly Dole's reply was published in full in the Honolulu papers of a recent date. It is more than 5,000 words in length.

It is learned from a prominent Royalist that after United States Minister Willis had made his demand upon the Provisional Government, he heard that the ex-Queen intended to except several individuals from her guarantee of amnesty. It is reported that the Queen spent a portion of the evening in question at Washington Palace, arguing with the ex-Queen and urging her to change her opinion. It is said that she refused to do this and that she excepted from amnesty President Dole, W. G. Smith, Attorney General Judd and several others.

Evans Seen Again.

SANGER, January 13.—H. Bowen, a resident of Squaw Valley, was in Sanger this afternoon. He states that as he left home this morning he saw Chris Evans in company with two other men. He met them in the public highway between the Holiday and Berry ranches. They were talking very earnestly, Evans apparently the leading spokesman.

Mr. Bowen is very positive that it was Chris Evans as he is well acquainted with him. He could not say as to the identity of the other two men.

Squaw Valley is about twenty miles from here in the lower foothills. The Holiday and Berry places adjoin that of Colwell's, where Evans dined last Tuesday. Sheriff Scott and some of his men are in Squaw Valley.

The Suit Against Noble.

NEW YORK, January 13.—In the trial suit of W. R. Lapham for $25,000 damages for libel against ex-Secretary of the Interior John W. Noble the jury has been discharged, having been unable to agree. Lapham was formerly Chief Clerk of the Stationery and Printing Division of the Interior Department, which place he resigned to become a broker in Government supplies. The suit was based on a circular to contractors issued by Noble stating that any interference on the part of Lapham would not be to the interest of any person or firm making bids. Noble said there was no personal malice in it at all. The jury stood eleven to one in favor of Noble.

BARLOW BROTHERS' MINSTRELS.
A Refined Entertainment With No Offensive Features.

Barlow Brothers' Minstrel Company, which is billed to appear at the Opera House next Saturday, is highly recommended by the Eastern press. The dramatic critic of the Philadelphia Times says:

"The combination came here flushed with the success of its recent New York tour and is unanimously endorsed as one of the greatest companies of vaudeville and operatic talent ever organized. The company includes some noted European performers, and gives a refined entertainment without any offensive features."

Can Congress Make Potatoes by Law?

Editor JOURNAL.—In a recent money article editorial you said, "All debts are money debts and no prudent person will contract a money debt when money cannot be obtained to meet that debt, as a consequence the laborer goes unemployed and the laborer's family goes unfed."

"I can understand that, because I am out of work and my family is out of food, but there is much written about money that I do not understand. It is often asserted that money may be made out of paper. If money can be made out of paper, then, for a like reason, money can be made out of pine chips or any other valueless thing. What I wish to ask is, if by legislation or by law Congress can make a valuable thing out of a valueless thing?"

For the Destitute.

The Employment and Relief Committee respectfully appeal to our generous hearted fellow citizens for donations of money, provisions, clothing, bedding and some articles of common furniture required by needy families. The following articles are needed for immediate distribution: Underclothing for an old lady, shoes and clothing for children from 5 to 7 years of age, clothing for family of five children, shoes for girl of 11 and clothing for family of nine children. Employment urgently needed by both sexes.

At the semi-annual election of the Virginia Miners' Union the following officers were chosen: President, Wm. O. Leahy; Vice President, F. H. Johnson; Recording Secretary, J. F. Carroll, John Rose, Joseph E. Casey, George F. Wellen and E. J. Sheerin.

Hon. Archie McDonell of Storey County is going into business in San Francisco. He tells the Enterprise he is out of politics, but shall always consider himself a resident of Nevada and if nominated as the Republican candidate for Governor of Nevada he will use his best endeavors to attain the distinguished honor of becoming Chief Executive of the State. This shows that the Republicans are not in as bad a fix for gubernatorial material as they have been represented to be. If no resident of the State is willing to sacrifice himself they can nominate a non-resident.

IN THE REPUBLIC IN DANGER?
What a Greenbacker says of the Money and Other Questions.

RENO, Nevada, Jan. 10, 1894.
EDITOR JOURNAL—I have troubled you so little for a long time in the past with my views, that I trust you will not consider me very impudent when I ask for a little space in the JOURNAL to consider questions which seem to me of vital importance.

While I do not promise to give you advice, I will recall a little of the past and tell you what I think ought to be done in the present. You will remember how strenuously I have always opposed silver. I have never worked with the Populists on account of what I considered their fool ideas on the money question. Suppose that the Populists were to elect the next President and gain control of both branches of Congress, what forward step would have been taken and who would have achieved a victory, the people or their oppressors? The fight against silver is not real, but fictitious, and like the tariff itself, it is put forward to mystify and mislead the people, and cover up the real purposes of the money flunks till they shall be able to accomplish their damnable purposes in perfect security.

Suppose that silver were remonetized in full to-morrow, who would be the gainers? Why, the millionaires. Who would then, as now, own nearly all the gold and silver? Why, the millionaires, and could they not the day after, again look up in their vaults nearly all the money, as they have now done, and again rob, starve, freeze, plunder, murder and farther degrade and enslave our people? Disguise the Populists, and while one may vote for their leaders without committing an actual crime, yet, even in the event of their success, nothing would have been done toward freeing the people from the grasp of that terrible octopus, the body of which lies stretched from Washington through Wall Street, that has thrown out his accursed tentacles through every nook and corner of our broad land and is now sucking the life blood and gnawing at the very vitals of liberty.

Can the people free themselves from the blighting, withering power now exercised against them by the owners of gold? The answer is yes, they can, without doing the least injustice to any person living. How? By forming a new party, and I would suggest that its name be "American," and its motto, "Let Americans Rule America," and not England's snobs or American scabs with snob proclivities, and let the name American be taken in so broad a sense as to include every person now in our country who is, or wishes to become a citizen, and let their first act when they come into power be to demonetize gold, silver and all metals used for money, and then let the Government put forward money made of some substance without value, say paper, in quantities sufficient for all their needs and make it accessible to them through the Standard Land Loan Bill, cr. one very similar, and then, and not till then, will the people have attained their liberty. Then the gold owner with his millions and millions in gold, will be as powerless for harm as the farmer is now with his millions of bushels of wheat or potatoes. Make our money of some material without value, the quantity of which can never be limited and live forever, but continue the use of gold and silver but a few years longer with their present powers and as God lives our Republic will surely die.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

A PROSPEROUS YEAR.

The Verdi Mill Company Found 1893
One of the Best Business Years in Its History.

In spite of the prevailing dullness of business everywhere, the year just closed has been one of the most prosperous in the history of the Verdi Mill Company. The balance sheet of the company for the year just closed shows a total increased sales over that of 1892 of about $20,000. The officers of the company are O. Lonkey, President, and J. F. Goudon, Manager and Secretary, who with C. C. Powning constitute a Board of Trustees.

The company's works are located about half a mile west of Verdi on the Truckee river. The mill is run by water power. It is 220 feet long, 100 feet wide and two stories high, and is divided into two departments, one for the manufacture of sash, doors and blinds, dressed lumber, moulding, turnings, etc., for which nearly thirty different machines are used, such as planers, stickers, rip and cut-off saws, tenoners, mortises, relishers, borers, sanders, panel machines, dadoes, band and jig saws, turning lathes, shapers, etc. The box department is located at the north end of the mill and is provided with the following machines: One gang edger, having a capacity of 80,000 feet per day; one large double surface planer of a like capacity; four cut-off circular saws and tables, capacity 10,000 feet each per day; one circular resaw, capacity 7,000 orange boxes per day; one large band saw, capacity ninety feet per minute; two circular piece saws; two boring machines; one printing press for printing the ends of boxes.

The whole is fitted up with a system of blow pipes and blowers so that shavings are taken up from the machines and forced through a conductor 250 feet away, where they are burned in an automatic furnace.

The company employ from forty to sixty men the year around, and cut from 7,000,000 to 10,000,000 feet of lumber into boxes annually, besides the clear and common lumber that they ship away for building purposes.

The company ready market for their boxes, lumber, mouldings, doors, sashes, etc., all over the Coast and as far east as Denver.

Creamery Dairy.

The system of bottling milk has been adopted in all the eastern cities and milk in bottles commands two cents per quart more than when sold in the old way. The Creamery Dairy sells bottled milk to customers without extra charge. This dairy is conceded to be the best in the State and it is open to the inspection of the public at all times. jan5w1.

A Bushel of PHIS.

And every one wants to stick fast in the throat, and feels as though they did stick somewhere. Away with them and take Simmon's Liver Regulator. One-half teaspoonful is a dose, and it goes down pleasantly. You'll find it a mild laxative, with no griping, does not debilitate. It quickly relieves the system of malarial poison, and cures constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sick headache.

LaGrippe.

During the prevalence of the grippe the past seasons it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery, not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in affecting rapid cures of La Grippe, but in all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, and has cured cases of Asthma and Hay Fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free Trial Bottles at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.
